

Letters to the Editor

Thank you for volunteering to write letters to the editor. It makes a big difference for voters who haven't had time to learn more about the financial issues our schools are facing.

We'd love for you to write letters to your local paper first, and here are those links:

- Arvada Press – editor@coloradocommunitymedia.com
- Golden Transcript - editor@coloradocommunitymedia.com
- Lakewood Sentinel - editor@coloradocommunitymedia.com
- Littleton Independent – letters@coloradocommunitymedia.com
- Westminster Window - editor@coloradocommunitymedia.com
- Wheat Ridge Transcript - editor@coloradocommunitymedia.com

Letters to the above newspapers should be limited to 300 words.

Canyon Courier, High Timber Times, or Columbine Courier

All three of these papers have a limit of 250 words and require you to submit your letter by Monday for publication that week.

- Columbine Courier – <http://www.columbinecourier.com/content/letter-editor>
- Canyon Courier - <http://www.canyoncourier.com/content/letter-editor>
- High Timber Times - <http://www.hightimberties.com/content/letter-editor>

Denver Post

If you want to write to the Denver Post, you can either post an opinion in Your Hub, or you can write a traditional letter to the editor.

To post in Your Hub, follow the instructions at this link:

<http://yourhub.denverpost.com/how-to-post/>.

Traditional letters to the editor must be 150 words or less, must include your full name, home address, and day and evening phone numbers, and can be emailed to openforum@denverpost.com.

If you have any questions, please email Lisa Cook at drlisacook@gmail.com, and thank you!
